

WALLINGFORD.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the season, the thermometer registering from 83 to 96 in the shade. Many reports at mean 100. A bottle of champagne standing on the table in R. W. Lynch's cafe burst yesterday afternoon from the heat.

M. E. Cook began work yesterday on the extension of Hall avenue from River street to the turnpike through the Masonic Home property.

The East Wallingford defeated the Northford farmers at baseball by a score of 25 to 14.

A special meeting of the board of managers will be held at the Masonic Home to-day.

The T. A. B. nine were badly beaten in Middletown. The score was 17 to 0.

The Ramblers will have a club-run to the Highland house Sunday.

J. T. McDonough received a telegram from Taunton, Mass., yesterday announcing the death of his mother and started at 1:47 for that city.

There was a disgraceful fight at the corner of Quinipiac and Washington streets yesterday afternoon. No arrests as yet.

Three of the photographs of the fireman taking part in the contest will be reproduced in the souvenir of Wallingford. One is on exhibition in Carroll's window.

It is expected that the Austin auction will be finished up to-day.

The Tennis Tournament.

There was not much playing in the tennis tournament yesterday afternoon. Chase and Foote defeated Fisher and Paret, 6-1, 3-0, 6-13. Late in the afternoon Howland and Chase began playing, but were interrupted by the thunder shower.

The finals and double will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the singles Monday afternoon at 2:30.

Curiosities of Etiquette.

In the Austrian court it is contrary to custom for perishable articles to appear twice on the imperial table.

The result is large perquisites for the attendants. To one man fall all the unworked bottles, to another the wine left in the glasses, to another the joints, and to another still the game or the sweets. Every morning a sort of market is held in the basement of the palace, where the Viennese come readily to purchase the remains. And there is no other means of procuring Imperial Tokay than this.

Long ago in England even the greatest men in the land were pleased to receive such perquisites. In the reign of Henry II., for instance, the Lord Chancellor was entitled to the candle-ends of one great and forty small candles per day. And the aquarist, who must be a baron in rank, received one penny for drying towels on every ordinary occasion of the king's bathing.

The ceremonial that the Rev. Canon ever gave the first Emperor Napoleon was carefully to revive in a less extreme form, and it is characteristic of the man that he made a special study of it, and went so far as to prescribe the special forms to be observed on great occasions. Before his coronation, M. Isabeau, the miniature painter, gave seven rehearsals with wooden dolls appropriately dressed of the seven ceremonies that were to be enacted. And one ceremony being especially intricate, the functionaries rehearsed it in person in the gallery of Diana at the Tuileries, a plan having been carefully traced with chalk on the floor. This was the sort of thing in which Napoleon especially rejoiced, and he himself arranged beforehand all the details of the entry of Maria Louisa into France, and of his subsequent marriage with her. Among other parties, on reaching what was then French territory the archduchess was conducted into the eastward room of a three-roomed house near Braunau; the French commissioner entered the westward; while the third room in the middle was reserved for the archduchess.

die was occupied by the rest of the party. And M. de Bousset, who gives an account of the proceedings, having bored holes with a gimlet in the door of the middle room, had a splendid view of the unconscious princess. But, he quickly adds, it was the ladies who took most advantage of his forethought.

The ceremonial of the Chinese court is somewhat exacting. It used to include, if it does not now, complete prostration before the throne. Last century a Persian envoy refused to go through the degrading ordeal. Directions were given to the officials to compel him by stratagem to do so. On arriving one day at the entrance to the hall of audience, the envoy found no means of going in except by a wicket, which would compel him to stoop very low. With great presence of mind and considerable audacity the ambassador turned round and entered backwards, thus saving the honor of his country—London Standard.

WIFE'S RUSE.

Tired of Country Life, She Adopted Extraordinary Expedients to Get Away.

Tired of a monotonous existence in a small country town, Mme. Auclert, wife of a medical practitioner at Brezelle, in the Beauce, adopted strange measures for the purpose of freeing herself from marital control, says a Paris letter to the London Telegraph.

She wrote anonymous letters to her husband and in these epistles accused herself of breaking her marriage vow. The doctor disbelieved the charges formulated in the letters, which he tore up and burned with many a shrug of his shoulders. Mme. Auclert then turned her hands to incendiarism and set fire to a barn near her abode.

After the place had been burned down she told her husband that she wanted to leave a district peopled by savages, who intended next, no doubt, to fire her dwelling. Laleu, a man of no consequence in the town, was reported to the gendarmes as the criminal who had burned the barn and, filled with fright at the prospect of impending arrest, the poor wretch hanged himself.

The anonymous letters still continued to rain on the doctor, who at last discovered that his wife's handwriting was wonderfully like that in which the missives were written.

Mme. Auclert confessed everything and has been tried at Chartres on a charge of incendiarism. The jurors found this new Mme. Hovary fully responsible for her actions in spite of the defense set up by the able lawyer from Paris who had charge of her interests and she was condemned to five years' imprisonment.

"THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE"

IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE."

Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life, Who Would Avoid for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book Called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

Here at last is information from a high medical source that will work wonders in this generation of men.

The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power. A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, dependency, etc.

To restore a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, dependency, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone to every part and organ of the body.

Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiously seekers, invaluable to men only who need it.

A despairing man, who had applied to us, soon after wrote:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug every man and tell them my old self had died forever, and my new self was born today. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

And another thus:

"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."

Write to the MEDICAL COMPANY, Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is well introduced.

HOUSE CLEANING TIME

Is not only trying and laborious to the good housewife, but also "a trifle unpleasant" to the "lord of the manor," who misses many little attentions which he receives when "everything" is not "piled up" and "put somewhere" where "one can't find it."

But it is a necessary ordeal, and soon, under the able and efficient management of "the Angel of the Household," perfect "cleanliness" which is "next to godliness" ensues, and peace like a gentle dove again broods over the domestic habitation.

Since ROOT, the Famous Baker, Introduced his Celebrated

QUAKER BREAD

House-cleaning time has lost much of its "terror." Fortified with a good breakfast, of which Delicious Quaker Bread is one of the articles of consumption, good health and spirits are sure to render the work "a labor of love" and the "man of the house" also feels so pleasant that he finds himself involuntarily whistling "Home, Sweet Home."

Root's Quaker Bread was introduced to the New Haven public by Mr. Root, who makes it by the original process. It is
